When we learn and use Reflexology, we work primarily on the feet and tend to leave hand reflexology as a back-up. As a result, many Reflexologists do not feel as comfortable using hand reflexology and its benefits are not as widely known by the general public.

Our Hand Reflexology Workshop will teach you all you need to know to be able to perform a professional and beneficial treatment on yourself and your clients. With your new confidence, you might even decide to offer Hand Reflexology as a stand-alone treatment.

This workshop is open to all reflexologists and students of reflexology. It counts towards your CPD.

Places are limited so please book early to avoid disappointment using the form below
